Food Giant Opens Most Modern Bakery in Southland at Store

Just opened in the Food Giant Market at Pacific Coast Hwy. and Hawthorne is the newest, most modern bakery in the Los Angeles area. Here, Food Giant customers will be able to see their breads, cakes, and pastries baked before their eyes and to buy them while they're fresh, fragrant, and piping hot.

The bakery will work during store hours, so that there will be almost no delay between the time the delicious baked goods leave the oven and the time they're placed on sale.

THE BIG bake oven in the new Food Giant Bakery is separated from the market proper only by a railing which keeps customers safely out of range of hot pans, so that it's possible to watch golden-brown dinner rolls as they are removed from the oven, sniff their heavenly fresh-baked aroma, and take them along home, still hot to the hand.

There's a new departure in the display cases in Food

Giant's Bakery. Instead of the usual front counter with wall cases behind it, all baked goods are shown in a glassed-in wall display case with no intervening counter. Shopping carts can be wheeled right up to the cases.

NOT ONLY does the new system make it easier to find and point out the desired item than it is in conventional layouts, but much crowding is eliminated.

The superb line of baked goods regularly available is supplemented during this holiday season with many special items: rich fruit cakes in several sizes, honeycake stars, honeycake Santas (big, little, and in-between), gingerbread houses, pfeffernusse, Christmas stollen, anise-flavored springerle, cakes especially decorated for Christmas—all with the flavor and aroma of Christmas in every bite.

ALL YEAR round, specialties of the season will be on hand at Food Giant's new bakery. For the rest of those special occasions—weddings, birthdays, anniversaries, children's parties—the new Food Giant Bakery will be happy to take orders for specially decorated cakes.

And every day will be a special day at the Food Giant Bakery, with a complete line of Danish pastries, cookies, layer cakes, hot breads, dinner rolls, herb rolls, flaky dessert pastries, pies, and all the good things that come from a bakery.

Civic Symphony Features Family Night Program

Christmas gift to the community will be a family night concert presented by the Civic Symphony of South Bay and Torrance conducted by Miss Alyse Aehle, on Thursday, Dec. 29, 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Redondo High School auditorium. The early hour has been set to accommodate families with children. While all interested families are invited, a special invitation is being extended to Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of the area.

Judge John A. Shidler of Hollywood Riviera will narrate the music based on legends and folk stories of particular appeal to children. The program will include such selections as: "Overture to Hansel and Gretel," Humperdinck; "Lohengrin," Wagner, and "Polovetzan Dances," by Borodin.

Youthful guest soloists will be presented with several numbers, particularly with the selection "Carnival of Animals." Added attraction for children will be a reception following the program in the Music Hall of the high school. Members of the 75-piece orchestra will be present to answer questions and give young people a first hand opportunity to acquaint themselves with the instruments which make up a symphony orchestra. No admission is charged for the family night concert.

Gift-Wrapping Class Slated By Y Tomorrow

All children are invited to the Torrance YMCA tomorrow from 10 a.m. until noon to learn gift-wrapping skills from an expert.

Mrs. William Herrmann, a professional gift-wraper, will teach the youngsters to create beautiful packages for their gifts to parents.

All boys and girls are asked to bring some paper, ribbon, and presents for their parents to be wrapped. Gifts for parents can be as simple as a crayon drawing.

Mrs. Herrmann is noted locally for her artistic creations in gift-wrapping. She will be aided by several teen-agers working as gift-wrappers at various stores.

Following the gift-wrapping spree, the children will sing Christmas carols and hear some Christmas stories from the YMCA staff.

There is no charge for the program. The Torrance YMCA is located at the corner of Plaza del Amo and Arlington Ave.
